Foreword

The foreword of a book gives the editors a chance to give the reader a preview and an insight into the pages that follow. We would like to take this opportunity to do just that.

Traditional commencement ceremonies in June will honor Hughson's 50th graduation class. Hughson High School has endeavored to prepare students for adult life for more than fifty years.

Each of the fifty classes has its own treasure chest of memories. Each student, in however small a way, has added to the history of Hughson Union High School.

Hughson has seen many changes in fifty years. The school plant itself, as you shall see in later pages, has seen great changes, as has the main street of Hughson. Wagon ruts in Main Street have changed to bumps unfelt by modern autos.

Hughson, nevertheless, has the past still in its blood. The old hotel (now the Odd Fellows Hall) and the present library are landmarks for those five or fifty-five years old.

This anniversary edition is the largest yearbook ever published at Hughson. Its size, however, is not the only change. We have included a greater coverage of activities and athletic events, and have also added a section commemorating Hughson's growth during the past fifty years.

We have endeavored to be original, imaginative, and yet to give you quality in a unique way. Our goal, aside from recording the school year, has been to please the reader. We hope we have accomplished this.

Start now leafing through the book, but keep in mind that even though there will be other anniversary edition yearbooks at Hughson, you have the prized--- the FIRST.

Dedication

Four years ago, Mrs. Laymon came to Hughson Union High School with hope for the best and determination to make it so. She has given of her time and her talents in a variety of ways. From her first year her ability to carry out a responsibility has been evident. Because of this ability, a continually increasing number of responsibilities has been given to her. As the burdens of her work increased, she took the HUSKY under her wing, stood up for it, and watched the editors suffer near exhaustion. She has strived to make this anniversary edition stand out above all others. Because of her interest in this publication, we dedicate it to her. Ever she seeks the best; we find it.

SACRAMENTO

It is a pleasure to join in this commemoration of the 50th anniversary of Hughson Union High School. Your school district has achieved a milestone in its record of service to the young people of the Hughson area and to the cause of education in California.

Such achievement is generally the result of the dedication of people who see the great need for constant improvement in the quality of education. Your superintendent, Mr. Robert Reeder, is such a person. I extend him my congratulations for all he has achieved and my best wishes for continued success.

The Legislative Committee is the governing body of Hughson Union High School. The voting members of the group consists of the president of each of the four classes and two representatives from each class. The Vice-president of the Student Body is the presiding officer. The Student Body Secretary takes the minutes and takes care of all correspondence. In addition, each school organization may have one representative to take part in discussions and present the business of its club.

This past year the Legislative Committee has accomplished much. The most outstanding thing that happened was the payment of a large debt which had kept the Student Body in the red for many years. Mr. Ben Cuddy, Student Body advisor, deserves a big hand for masterminding this.

Another important thing which happened during the year was the passing of an amendment to the Student Body Constitution. This amendment made it possible for the treasurer and association treasurer to be elected for both semesters of the school year.

The legislative Committee sponsors many Student Body activities, Assemblies, elections, and a school playday are among the things planned and promoted by the Committee.

Future Homemakers of America is one of the most active clubs on the campus. On the activities list were a trip to San Francisco, a tour of a bakery, and a fashion show. They also sent delegates to a leadership conference at Asilomar, and sponsored a scholarship. Informative lectures, a formal installation of officers, and, of course, the necessary money making projects rounded out the F.H.A. year.

The G. A. A. is a club dedicated to the purpose of encouraging sportsmanship and active participation in girl's sports. Each year class teams participate in sports ranging from speed-a-way to baseball. Playdays, banquets and initiations round out the year's activities. The leader of this cheerful group is none other than our beloved Mrs. Owens.

Swan Song

We, your editors, have attempted to preserve in this annual at least in part, some of the 1963-64 school year. Choosing what to record and what to delete is no easy task, but we have tried.

Many school year happenings are difficult to put into words and pictures. So are the obligations and appreciations we owe many people who have helped us.

The theme we inherited, but the continuity we have achieved was made possible largely by the help and co-operation of all the community. Some of our help was contracted. To Gordon Ham Portraits we say, "We will now leave you alone and thanks". To Gordon - Your dauntless help and suggestions are always welcome. To Betty - Thank you for your much needed sympathy. To Grace - Your defense of our ideas is gratefully appreciated. To Allen - Thanks for the "good words" you put in for us in the dark-room. To Jim - We have finally attained the virtue of PRECISENESS of measurement. Happy? To S. K. Smith Covers (J. R.) Thanks, and to American Yearbook Company (Mr. Myers) We're sure we sent you that picture. Yet, as we said, other help was voluntary. To Mr. Reeder for his many defenses of our efforts, to Mrs. Laymon and her gentle (?) prodding, to our phantom proofreader with the superb spelling ability, and to our HUSKY staff and their wild paste-up periods, we say a heartfelt "thanks".

Many times our staff probably felt, "Ugh! How could they put that there?" or "Yearbooks are a waste". Yet yearbooks are necessary to record the past years happenings and to preserve it's memories. If your editors have gained nothing else from this undertaking, we would at least have learned that "Rome wasn't built in a day". Neither is a good yearbook.

It has been an enormous task but a pleasureable and rewarding one to be your 1964 editors.
